

Questions about COVID-19?

New call center established for the community and employees of Yale New Haven Health and Yale University

COVID-19 CALL CENTER

Yale New Haven Health has established a call center for employees of the Health System and Yale University who have questions about COVID-19 and their role in protecting themselves and our patients.

Healthcare and human resources professionals from the Health System and University are available to answer your specific questions Monday – Friday, 7 am – 7pm.

The call center is also available to our patients and the community who have questions about COVID-19.

The Yale New Haven Health COVID-19 call center can be reached at 203.688.1700.