The United Way of Milford and The Woodruff Family YMCA have joined forces to bring back this beloved Milford community event. The Steering Committee is optimistic about making this a wonderful event once again. At the same time, in this first year back we are also realistic and want to manage expectations.

Duck sales should begin in early April with a big push toward online purchases. The most successful duck races across the country now use this same approach.

Our primary focus right now, however, is for sponsors and donated prizes (products, services, gift certificates, and even donated timeshares, etc.).

Any businesses or individuals who want to support this exciting event should email Mary D'Amato at mary@damatobrothers.com.

We also need volunteers as the event approaches and on race day. Until then, like us on Facebook (@milfordharborduckrace) or sign up for updates on the new website (www.milfordduckrace.com).

* Commensurate with level of support, sponsor names will appear on the widely distributed prize list, online (website, Facebook, etc. TBD) at Duck Adoption Sites and at the event.

Amy Lynn & The Honey Men

THE MUSIC OF JANIS JOPLIN In a complex, ever-changing world, singer Amy Lynn finds herself asking: what would Janis do? A celebration of the legendary performer's indomitable spirit, A Woman Left Lonely sees Amy and her horn-heavy band the Honey Men tearing into Janis Joplin's ferocious songs while re-contextualizing them for 2017. Over the course of the show, Amy considers Janis's legacy as a sexually liberated, emotionally vulnerable woman in today's context, when such a person is only slightly less terrifying to the world than she would have been in the late 1960s. Songs include horn-powered arrangements of "Piece of My Heart," "Little Girl Blue," "A Woman Left Lonely," "Me and Bobby McGee," and more. Amy Lynn and the Honey Men return to the MAC to sing Janis Joplin's greatest hits. Join them as they capture her unique sound and energy for an unforgettable evening celebrating this rock and roll legend. Amy Lynn & The Honey Men are a group that blows glitter all over the traditional Memphis-motown soul/rock style. At the controls is Amy Lynn, a vocal powerhouse whose unique flair of quirky, down-to-earth humor countervails against the serious musicianship of The Honey Men's team of bari sax, tenor sax, trumpet, keys, bass, and drums. Both together and apart, members of The Honey Men draw on a range of experience playing with acts such as Roberta Flack, Spoon, Bette Midler, Beth Hart, St. Vincent, The National, Yo La Tengo, Duffy, Antibalas, and the Radio City Orchestra. All seats $30. Cafe Seating! Bring your own food and drink to enjoy during the show!
